Barbary Coast Starts Anew In East New York

New York—Dance halls which formerly flourished on San Francisco's Barbary Coast, which San Francisco's New York's east side and most of the male patrons are "socially undesirable" Orientals, according to a report submitted to city officials, after a four month survey by a social worker committee. Twenty per cent of the dancing places, many of which are of the "closed" type, reveal amazing conditions of immorality, the report says.

There are 21 east side dance halls of the type reported on for conditions in our dance halls as any other group. The dance halls adopt dances originating at Harvard or Amherst. They are degraded all the way down until they are finally very different.

The survey was made under the direction of Mrs. Maria Lambin, former chief supervisor of dance halls in San Francisco.

As to the general dance hall situation, the report says:

"The boys and girls of our colleges are as much responsible for conditions in our dance halls as any other group. The dance halls adopt dances originating at Harvard or Amherst. They are degraded all the way down until they are finally very different."

The survey was made under the direction of Mrs. Maria Lambin, former chief supervisor of dance halls in San Francisco.

Washington, D. C.—Appropriation of $13,850,000 was recommended Saturday by the house appropriation committee to enable various government departments to wind up the fiscal year without deficits.

The individual items included $13,850,000 to enable the coast guard to reconstruction 20 destroyers and buy 323 fast motor boats for use against rum runners. The committee also recommended appropriations of $526,000 for repairs and alterations at the Ellis Island immigrant station, $300,000 for completing a dam on the Elk River Indian reservation, and $450,000 for factory buildings at the Leavenworth penitentiary.

"At least fifty members of the house of representatives will file the committee bill next Tuesday," Mr. Hill predicted, "and it is hoped that all members favoring this modification will join the movement."

London—The people of Persia are censuring the Shah for his repeated lengthy absences in Europe and are talking of founding a republic, says the Tehran correspondent of the Daily Mail. The entire Persian press, he declares, is strongly in favor of the change.

The Shah who has been in Europe since early November, now is at Nice. He participated in the "battle of the flowers" on Thursday. He was on the continent from January to November, 1922, and also from the fall of 1919 to the spring of 1920.

M'ADOO SLUMP STARTS RIVAL BOOMS IN CAMP

Despite Fact That Former Secretary Was Approved, Attacks Created Damage

DEMOCRATS SEEK NEW MEN

Brandeis and Clarke Appear to Be Most Likely Candidates in 1924

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1924 by the Post Pub. Co.

Washington—It is anybody's race now for the Democratic nomination for the presidency. While William Gibbs McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, has by no means been eliminated and his supporters insist that they recent attacks on him for receiving large fees as attorney for corporations involve no wrongdoing, there is no question but that he has been injured politically. The friends of other contenders have quickened their pace and no longer may it be said that McAdoo or anyone else is in the lead—it's a free-for-all.

Again and again among Democrats the question is asked "who will be nominated if not McAdoo?" The search for new timber, or at least men whose names have not been brought forward prominently before, has led to an undercurrent of talk in favor of Louis D. Brandeis, of Massachusetts, now associate justice of the supreme court of the United States, and John H. Clarke of Ohio, former associate justice of the supreme court who now is at the head of the League of Nations non-Partisan association.

FRIENDS OF WILSON

Both men were close friends and appointees of the late President Wilson and both are of the progressive school in politics.

In favor of Mr. Brandeis is the fact that he has been on the bench for several years and therefore not in any way mixed up in recent administrative controversies, that he is a liberal and commands the confidence of the western progressives who want the next presidential campaign fought out on progressive lines, that he is an asset. Mr. Brandeis of course is not in any way a party to the political dissensions and is not aware, probably, of the gossip about his chances.

Former Justice Clarke's name has been continually coming up ever since he left the bench. As he is a native of Ohio and is held in high respect there, the Democrats who favor Ohio in his behalf could carry this point to the north.

SEEK UNSMIRCHED LEADERS

The mention of both these men is due to a desire to get candidates who have had no affiliations whatsoever which could be attacked and to carry to the people men of integrity as a pledge of good government, the theory being that the oil scandal will more than ever before put the political X-ray on personal character and business affiliations.

Many Democrats already are counting on a victory by means of the western and southern electoral votes and to win the west they think candidates of the Brandeis and Clarke type will be necessary.

The friends of John W. Davis of West Virginia, they have but this comfort in their hearts, that if McAdoo's corporation law fees do not make him politically ineligible, they also can not disqualify Mr. Davis. The latter was president of the American Bar association and is considered one of the ablest lawyers in the country and his friends say that if he received large fees they would not be incommensurate with those received by Charles Evans Hughes after he retired from the supreme court bench and practiced law in New York or those of Elihu Root in his days of activity.

Senator Underwood of Alabama, Senator Glass of Virginia, and Senator Robinson of Arkansas have been taken into consideration because of the sectional strength they have but thus far nobody has really forged ahead. Until the oil controversy developed Mr. McAdoo was far ahead of all others. Today he is ahead of his opponents and the latter all feel they have as good if not a better chance.

HOUSE READY FOR FIGHT ON SOLDIER BONUS

Republican Senators Favor Paid-up Insurance Plan of Compensation

Washington, D. D.—The soldier bonus bill was taken up by the house Ways and Means committee Saturday and given a clear slate for immediate consideration.

The committee voted to open a three-day hearing Monday, and then to proceed with preparation of a redrafted bill. Chairman Green said he expected the measure to be reported by next Saturday.

Several bills have been introduced including the McKenize bill which is similar to the measure voted by President Harding. Members of the committee have indicated increasing favor however, for proposals to make the main feature of adjusted compensation paidup insurance policies. Such provisions are carried in bills by Representatives Andrews, Massachusetts, and Fish, New York. Republicans, both of whom will appear before the committee.

LAWYER SENTENCED IN LAMARR SCANDAL

Los Angeles—Heiman L. Roth, Hollywood attorney, recently convicted of having attempted to extort money from Arthur H. Sawyer, business manager for the film actress Barbara Lamarr, was sentenced on Friday by Judge Russ Avey to from one to five years in San Quentin prison.

The court denied an application for probation and passed sentence in the face of a statement by the convicted man's attorney that Roth's health is in an extremely precarious condition and that his life was saved in the county jail Thursday night only by the administration of powerful restoratives.

Roth is 54 years old and is said to be suffering from a weak heart. His attorney filed a notice of appeal.

INDICTMENT IS WELCOME STEP, FORBES CLAIMS

Former Veterans Bureau Chief Glad of Chance to Face Jury of Peers

Washington, D. C.—Charles R. Forbes, former director of the Veterans bureau, declared in a statement he welcomed the indictments returned against him Friday in Chicago.

He said he looked upon them "with a clear conscience because they will permit me to present my case before a fair court of justice and a jury of my peers."

Forbes said he would "interpose no technical objection to a trial," but on the contrary would go to Chicago voluntarily "as the first step toward my complete vindication."

He characterized the accusations against him as "a hell-engineered conspiracy against my honor and integrity. The former Veterans director added he was "not going to Florida" despite the fact that "other men now charged publicly with crimes against the government had been reported as hiding behind the screen of ill health."

Forbes' attorneys made plans Saturday to summon about 40 witnesses for the defense, including Mr. Caroline Votaw, a sister of the late President Harding. They would not indicate what evidence would be sought from her.

"Later we expect to have eight members. On the nineteenth day of February we held our first meeting.

"Enclosed you will find as a token of respect, the first nickel we received. The members of the club wish you luck in your presidential campaign."

By Associated Press

Washington, D. C.—Attorney General Daugherty was charged in the senate Saturday by Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, with responsibility for use of a department of justice code in messages sent to Florida on behalf of Edward B. McLean.

"The attorney general did nothing to help fathom the crookedness of public officials," said Senator Caraway. "But he lent a positive hand by turning over the secret code of the department of justice so that criminals might communicate with criminals in the department of justice."

DUSTED OFFICIAL WILL HAVE HEARING

Alex Cobban, Former Automobile Registrar, Appeals to Commission

By Associated Press

Madison—The matter of dismissal of Alex Cobban, former state automobile registrar, director by Secretary of State F. W. Zimmerman, will be given a public hearing before the state Civil Service commission, it became certain Saturday when he announced he will appeal to the civil service body.

Mr. Cobban announced his intention of appealing the case for review following a brief conference with Secretary Zimmerman who returned to Madison Saturday. The Civil Service board will hold a session here next Wednesday and at that time Cobban will present his application for hearing, he said. Hearing probably will be set at later date, according to officials.

Mr. Cobban Saturday relinquished his post in the secretary of state's office. Secretary Zimmerman declined to make a public statement regarding the charges against Cobban, declaring he probably will have something to say later.

JAP PRINCE DIES IN NINETIETH YEAR

Death of Statesman Leaves But One Member of Old Regime

By Associated Press

Tokyo—The death early Saturday morning of Prince Matsukata, 90, who ruled Japan in his ninetieth year, leaves Prince Hirohito alone the sole survivor of Japan's elder statesmen.

The life span of Matsukata, who in an extended career saved the government in many crises, linked feudal and modern Japan. As a viceroy in the Meiji era, he was a leader in the imperial armies against the Shogun usurpers. Matsukata was regarded as the founder of modern Japanese finance. He established the bank of Japan and also instituted the gold basis of currency.

WILL CALL BURNS

William J. Burns, chief of the department of justice investigation bureau will be summoned by the oil committee to explain whether code messages sent to E. B. McLean's employees in Florida were of "other use" of the department's secret agents. He also will be asked whether Mr. McLean "inself is not carried on the books of the department as a secret agent at a nominal salary."

Mary Duckstein, who once was secretary to Mr. Burns and who now is on the department's roll of secret agents also will be called by the committee and asked whether she signed code messages sent to Florida over the signature "Mary."

One of the code messages so signed and placed before the oil committee was addressed to O. Duckstein, one of McLean's confidential men. He is the husband of Mary Duckstein.

Mr. Burns said Saturday that he understood the code employed in this message was used at one time by department of justice agents.

EDITOR QUESTIONED

Washington, D. C.—John F. Major and other employees of Edward B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, were questioned by the oil committee Saturday in its search for further details of the communications that passed between Washington and the McLean cottage at Palm Beach during December and January.

It was Major who signed most of the telegrams to McLean already used into the committee records. He was questioned at length about these messages but he said the telegrams sent over the private wire by McLean between Washington and Palm Beach had been destroyed.

John J. Spurgeon, managing editor of the Post, was called as the first witness. Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, asked about the installation of the private wire and he replied "I can't tell you who installed the wire Mr. McLean directed that it be installed."

He said that he did not know what went over the wire or whether real words were kept. His duty as chief of the news department of the paper, he explained, did not require him to be responsible for such arrangements.

Senator Walsh asked for the identity of the "man who is over you all" and the witness said it was Mr. McLean. Senator Adams, Democrat, Colorado, asked if the wire to Palm Beach had any new use. Mr. Spurgeon said it had none.

FARMERS PAY $28 AVERAGE FOR 33 HOGS AT AUCTION
Nine Breeders Consign Animals to Duroc-Jersey Sale at New London

BY J. F. WINSET
"For years" declared J. H. Denhardt, mayor of Neenah and auctioneer for the Outagamie County Duroc-Jersey Breeders' association at the consignment sale, held at New London, in Jennings' garage, Feb. 28. "It was accepted as indisputable history that the cow, the horse and the dog were the pioneer domestic animals of the American colonists."

"This is a mistake," continued the auctioneer, "corrected by recent history." Early records lately uncovered prove that on returning from his third landing on the western hemisphere, Columbus ordered a ship load of hogs sent from Spain to the new acquaintances he had made and the old friends he had left on American soil.

"Since its introduction to the people of the new world, the hog has spread rapidly until now it supplies 40 per cent of the meat consumed in the United States."

Thirty-three pure bred hogs, consigned by nine breeders were sold to 27 buyers at prices ranging from $19 to $35. The average selling price was $28. About 300 people attended.

ON THE SCREEN

EMBLEMS OF LOVE

A wonderful tribute was paid the Progress Production "Emblems of Love" by Secretary of Labor, James J. Davis. This splendid friend of America's childhood was deeply moved upon witnessing one of the presentations of this photodrama and immediately thereafter wrote these lines:

"There is a happy thought in 'Emblems of Love' for every man, woman and child. I urge every right-thinking American to make it his duty to see it. It is a mighty human document, a treatise on the lives of plain people—that element which is the backbone of our great democracy. I am happy that the producers have been able to interpret on the screen with such superb realism and in a manner so tremendously interesting, a theme which lies so close to my heart."

(Signed) James J. Davis
"It would seem futile to seek to add to the words of the distinguished Cabinet official. 'Emblems of Love' is said to be akin to theme and characterization and in its emotional appeal to 'Over the Hill' and 'The Old Nest.' A lovable, wholesome picture which have caused many a heart to throb, and its principal roles are played by a distinguished cast which includes Jane Jennings, Jack Drummer, Jane Thomas, Grace Cunard, Charles Delaney, Bernard Siegel and others.

LITTLE OLD NEW YORK COMING TO THE ELITE

Marion Davis will have a role entirely different from anything to which she has heretofore appeared and one exactly suited to her appealing personality when she appears as Patricia O'Day in "Little Old New York" at the Elite theatre on Wednesday for four days. The roguish, mischievous traits of Patricia O'Day, played by Miss Davies in "When Knighthood Was In Flower," are found in little Patricia, but there is also a quality of wistful pathos which shows a new side of Miss Davies' dramatic ability. The role of Patricia has something of the character of Maude Adam's "Peter Pan" or of "Little Lord Fauntleroy" about it. Miss Davies appears most of the time as a young boy, having donned this disguise in order to inherit a fortune.

One of the most dramatic scenes in the picture and one which gives Miss Davies a wonderful opportunity for expressing emotion is on shipboard when Patricia's brother is buried at sea. The star spent several days and nights on the ocean in an old-fashioned schooner while these scenes were being made. Those who saw her as Patricia Mary Tudor will recall the poignant appeal made by her helpless grief when she thought Charles Brandon was to be executed. The ship scene in "Little Old New York," where little Patricia sees the body of her beloved brother lowered over the side of the ship into the heaving ocean rivals it in emotional depths.

"Little Old New York" was adapted to the screen by Luther Reed from the stage play by Rida Johnson Young which had a most successful run on Broadway. Joseph Urban designed the settings which recreate the quaint charm of New York as it was a century ago. Sidney Olcott directed the picture. A cast which even surpasses that of "When Knighthood Was In Flower" in which Miss Davies scored such a tremendous success, adds lustre to "Little Old New York." One set, which was made in the Twenty-third Regiment armory in Brooklyn because no studio was large enough, is the largest set ever filmed in motion pictures and covered 650 square feet of floor space.

Harrison Ford, Courtenay Foote, Mahlon Hamilton, Norval Keddwell, George Barraud, Sam Hardy and Andrew Dillon portray members of the first families of New York of those days—the Vanderbilts, Astors, Brewsters and others, not forgetting Robert Fulton who ran the first steamboat up the Hudson, also Washington Irving. Others in the cast include Louise Volheim, I. M. Kerrigan, Spencer Charters, Harry Watson, Gypsy O'Brien, Elizabeth Murray, Mary Kennedy and Charles Judels.

to his fiancée to stop drinking she had broken their engagement. His head ached and his heart ached; he was sore at the world and core at himself—and then a curly-haired, ragged little blue-eyed tot put her chubby hand in his, climbed on his lap and crept into his heart.

"Little Mary Sunshine," they called her, for the accidental coming of the little waif into the Daily household wrought a miracle such as only a happy child can accomplish. Baby Marie Osborne is "Little Mary Sunshine" and she will be seen at the New Bijou theatre Sunday. Henry King directed the picture, and also plays the leading role—next to Marie. Mr. King's direction of Richard Barthelmess in "Tolable David" placed him in the front rank of screen directors.

NEW NUMBERS GO ON STATE ROUTES THROUGH COUNTY

Four New Routes and Two Number Changes Ordered by Highway Commission

A county map showing the routes and the numerical designations of the new state trunk highways and the state highways previously routed has been received in the office of A. G. Brusewitz, county highway commissioner.

Highway 15 entering Appleton at Foster st from Menasha and leaving by way of Lemnawah-st and Second-ave for Kaukauna and Green Bay remains the same as it was. Highway 47 starting at Richmond-st and College-ave and going north to Shawano also remains the same. Highway 18 is the same except that it enters Appleton on Lake st from Waverly Beach instead of on Second ave from Kaukauna. Highway 54 from New London to Black Creek, Seymour and Green Bay is the same.

Highway 38 has been changed to No. 24; it proceeds north as far as the Hortonville rd and thence north-west to Hortonville and New London. Highway No. 122 has been changed to 76 starts at the Triangle school on Highway 18 and goes to Greenville, Stephenville, Shiocton and Bear Creek.

The Bickford-ld, recently made a state highway, has been given the number 151. A new state highway starting at the county line in Buchanan, and going through Kaukauna, Little Chute, Seymour and thence west to connect with highway 47 has been numbered 55. Some time in the future the highway will avoid Little Chute and take a shorter cut to Seymour. A new highway starting from 47 and going through Nichols, Leeman and Clintonville has been numbered 156.

BOOST INTEREST IN CANNED GOODS

Eight great national organizations are back of the campaign to make National Canned Goods weeks more than "just another week" merchant here have been told. These organizations of grocers, wholesalers and canners are making a concerted effort to place the advantages and virtues of canned goods before the public by purchasing a great deal of advertising space in newspapers, magazines, street cars and billboards and by inducing merchants to prepare canned goods window displays and offer special inducements for purchase of canned food.

Appleton merchants are falling in line with this plan. National Canned Goods week starts on March 1 and continues until next Saturday.

Luncheon clubs all over the country will serve canned food luncheons during the week. The menu will be made up entirely of food that is purchased in canned form.

INDIAN KILLS HIS BROTHER WITH AXE

By Associated Press

Wausau—Francis Elk, a Winnebago Indian died here Friday of wounds in his back, alleged to have been inflicted with an axe by his brother Archie, in a fight at their home near Eland last Saturday night. It is claimed both were intoxicated at the time of the fight. Archie claims he thought he was striking his brother with a stick instead of an axe. He called for help when he realized his brother was badly hurt and secured several of his friends to secure money for medical attendance and to bring the victim to the Wausau hospital.

MAILMAN ENCOUNTERS LOTS OF DRAMA IN HIS LIFETIME

What human being has more drama in his life than any other? Emory Johnson, the motion picture director, says it is the man who comes in contact with the most people, and he has chosen a hero for his most recent picture whose life he believes is more full of dramatic moments than any other character ever seen on the stage or screen, the mail man.

"The Mail Man," coming to the Majestic theatre on March 3, 4, 5 and 6, with Ralph Lewis in the leading role, is replete with touches which fill the life of this most interesting character. This picture will be presented under the auspices of the Appleton Postoffice association, and proceeds from advance ticket sales will be devoted to the association benefit fund. Tickets have been placed on sale.

PLANT SWEET CLOVER AS AN EXPERIMENT

Bear Creek Farmers Impressed by Addresses at Farmers' Institute

Six farmers living near Bear Creek will plant 20 acres of sweet clover next spring to give it a trial as pasture as a result of the farmers' institute which was held in the village this week. One of the principal talks at the institute was on the value of sweet clover as summer forage when other pastures are dried up.

Two hundred additional acres of alfalfa will be planted by 34 farmers who agreed to seed that acreage, four farmers signed up to plant seventeen acres of soy beans and seven boys and girls will join pig clubs.

Sixteen men and women expressed a desire to have poultry culled demonstrations at Bear Creek in August or September, according to E. L. Luther, superintendent of farmers institutes.

Mr. Luther said the Bear Creek meeting was successful from the standpoint of interest and attendance. He commented on the excellent exhibits of school craft and household products.

"It was a first class institute and will result in much added interest in farming," Mr. Luther concluded.

THE COMPROMISE TAX BILL

The house by the significant majority of 408 to 8 have passed the compromise tax bill providing a 25 per cent reduction in the top bracket surtaxes, which would reduce them from 50 to 37 1/2 per cent. The Garner bill offered by the Democrats fixes the rate at 44 per cent. The compromise normal tax rates are 2 per cent on incomes up to $4000, 3 per cent on incomes from $4000 to $8000 and 6 per cent above $8000. The present law is 4 per cent below $4000 and 8 per cent above, while the Mellon rates were 3 and 6 per cent. It is reported, though seemingly without authority, that President Coolidge would approve such a compromise. It is possible he might not veto a measure carrying these rates, but he would weaken the position he has uniformly taken in support of the Mellon bill by announcing in advance his acceptance of the compromise. Even though the house has agreed upon a bill there remains the senate to deal with, and ultimately in all probability a conference between the two houses. The Garner bill would have, according to treasury estimates, resulted in a deficit of some $300,000,000, whereas under the Mellon bill the revenue stood to balance the national budget. Whether the compromise bill would incur a deficit is not indicated, but in all probability it would. There is little difference between its low rates and those of the Garner bill, while a reduction of only 25 per cent in war surtaxes is altogether problematical in its effect, and according to the treasury view would produce less revenue than a cut of 50 per cent.

The Mellon bill remains by all odds the best bill. It is a scientific plan to produce revenue with a minimum of burden on taxpayers, both large and small. It offers quite as much relief to the small taxpayer as do the other bills, and it is far more helpful to business prosperity and to a cheaper and larger supply of capital. The other proposals are political. They are vote-raising rather than revenue raising measures. The administration would, we think, do well to stand out for the Mellon bill until it is conclusively shown that it cannot be enacted.

LA FOLLETTE TO QUIT THE G. O. P.?

There is, of course, much significance to Mr. La Follette's instructions to withdraw his name from the Michigan and North Dakota primaries, where it had been placed on the Republican ticket. Mr. La Follette would take the Republican nomination if he could get it, but that is a lost hope, and the senator is getting along in years. In all probability 1924 will afford him the last opportunity to make a real bid for the presidency. It is a foregone conclusion, as it has been for the last twelve years, that he can get nowhere by retaining his identity with the Republicans. Mr. La Follette has for many years been completely out of the Republican party so far as agreement with its policies and legislation was concerned.

That he would have openly and finally broken with the party long ago had a third party movement offered any chance of success cannot be doubted. The possibilities along this line, considered from the radical viewpoint of the northwest, are better than they have ever been. Mr. La Follette may feel that a farmer-labor party can in this election become a national factor and make a strong bid for the presidency. We think he is mistaken, but nevertheless the perilous position of the administration and the general disgust with the stand-pat Republican organization offer plausible ground for such a theory. It is evidently Mr. La Follette's purpose to accept the farmer-labor, or third party, nomination. We do not believe there is any possibility of his election, but as a third party candidate he would greatly weaken the regular ticket and help to defeat its candidate. Conversely, he would make it easier sailing for the Democrats. It is going to be an exceedingly interesting and without doubt hotly contested campaign.

SHALL WE SOFTEN PROHIBITION?

Forty members of the house have joined in an announcement that next week they will introduce a bill to legalize the manufacture and sale of beverages with an alcoholic content of 2.75 per cent by volume. The bill will be in the nature of an amendment to the Volstead act, which is the enforcing law enacted by congress under the eighteenth amendment to the constitution. The proposal raises two questions. One is whether beverages with an alcoholic content of that specified are within the meaning and purpose of the constitutional amendment, which prohibits "the manufacture, sale, or transportation of intoxicating liquors," etc. Is a beverage of 2.75 alcoholic content intoxicating? If congress should hold by legislative enactment it is not, would the supreme court sustain it? These are propositions of law and fact.

The other question is, assuming that modification of the Volstead act in this respect is constitutional, whether public opinion favors such a change. Conflicting claims are made by the so-called personal liberty advocates and those who are for bone-dry prohibition. The one contends that public opinion has changed and that it would endorse a return of beer of low alcoholic content. The other side contends that a majority sentiment is against this modification. No one could say with any accuracy what the situation is unless a referendum were held.

Our opinion is that a proposal to legalize beer of 2.75 per cent alcohol would be ratified by public opinion. We believe this is true so far as the desire to have the privilege of buying and consuming such beer is concerned. We do not believe there is any sentiment in favor of a return of the old time saloon, and if the manufacture of weak beer were permitted it would have to be under the strictest regulation. We think a great many people have reached the conclusion that the experiment in prohibition has not been a success, for the reason that it went too far. They attribute the deplorable conditions and open traffic in poisonous liquor to the fact that the use of beverages of very low alcoholic content like beer was denied, and in this we think they are right.

We have no desire to see the constitutional amendment repealed, but the fact stands out that as it is now interpreted it is nullified. Some influential newspapers openly advocate nullification. This we believe is wrong, but it cannot be held responsible for the notorious and widespread violations of law. These have gone on in wholesale fashion from one end of the country to the other, and it cannot be disputed that illicit liquor business has perverted the morals of more young people than did legalized manufacture and sale before the eighteenth amendment was adopted. Whether going back to weak beer would put an end to moonshining and bootlegging of strong liquors we do not know, but it certainly would greatly reduce it and simplify the work of the enforcing officers. The prohibition problem is far from solved, and it is up to the government and congress to take steps to improve conditions. Modification of the Volstead act should, in our judgment, be the first step.

TODAY'S POEM
By Berton Braley

GOING SOME
If every morning when you rise
You view the world with friendly eyes,
And if each day you do your work
And do not dodge or slack or shirk;
If this day's job is fully done
Before tomorrow has begun,
And you can say with truth sincere,
"My work-bench—or my desk—is clear";
If, whether things go well or ill,
You greet the world with right good will,
And never take out on your wife
The grouches you sometimes have on life;
If you can bravely stand the snafu,
Look in the face of fate and laugh
Whether the luck be good or bum,
Why, then, old top, you're Going Some.
And I can tell you frank and free,
You sure will have it over me.

FILLERS

The other day we discussed the non-fattening but nourishing foods as I suppose no one will recall, and to save those who don't the trouble of writing about it, I will explain that as a matter of fact there are no such foods. Nonfattening yet nourishing foods are like the rheumatism, nervous breakdown, colds and weak lungs, you see—but it does not follow that I can tell you what the non-fattening material is, then, that you've been striving to eat. With a view to this, I will state there is no such thing as a filler. I do not contract to identify every long necked quadruped you may lead around to my office. People who harbor strange beasts purporting to be giraffes should consult a competent naturalist for identification of their animals, and not expect me to do a general long distance diagnostic practice.

There are plenty of foods which are comparatively nonfattening and non-nourishing, if anybody conceives a horrid notion of trying to worry along on a liberal selection of such foods. Myself, I believe it can be done with entire benefit to the general health. I know it can be done with marked benefit to an individual's physical endurance. But I prefer not to take very much of my own medicine. I frankly confess. Readers should eat as I say and not as I do. A full stomach satisfies the hunger sense even though it be full of mere fodder, wood fiber, grass, bran or grain. The fellow who fooled his horse with green dyed excelsior must have had some knowledge of physiology. A fair proportion of non-nourishing and indigestible roughage, bulk or filler in the diet is desirable as an aid to the digestion of other foods, a stimulus to the natural peristalsis or wave movements which are so essential in normal intestinal digestion, and, for every one who carries any slack or surplus weight a blessing like the green excelsior for the horse. Even the gelatin in ice cream may be compared with the green excelsior, though the ice cream manufacturers declare they use it only to improve digestion and make the product more stable. It seems that make the product from the hoofs, bones and hide, if not these parts themselves, tends to make the glucose and the occasional traces of egg or milk more digestible. Even in the artificial feeding of young infants, the addition to the diluted milk of a cereal gruel or water helps indigestion by preventing the formation of too large curds in the stomach.

Every meal should carry its share of the bulk or filler, and for people who have formed the habit of eating too much as overweight proves, the filler should form a large share of the meal. I suspect that the prejudice against sugar and candy for youngsters, which some otherwise sane and competent doctors harbor, is due to the evils of a highly concentrated and highly nutritious nutrient taken in excessive quantity. The same nutrient as it comes in nature, in the form of fruit or vegetable, even in the sugar cane, is without such objection. The indigestible wood fibre (cellulose) of the fruit, vegetable or cane, takes the curse off the sugar. Some fillers especially notable for healthy purposes are wheat, bran, raw cabbage, lettuce, celery, spinach, asparagus, sauerkraut, cauliflower, cucumbers and the greens. One of the best, when it comes to good eating, is the skin of baked potato, which is a good thing that we shall serve it exclusively at another meeting.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Snoring
Is there any cure for the dreadful habit of snoring? I snore even though I never lie on my back? (B. J. E.)
Answer.—A reader assures me he cured himself of this devastating habit by sealing his lips shut every night with adhesive plaster strips criss cross. Generally one or both of two factors require a remedy: First, a flabby relaxed state of the mucous membrane of nose cavity, which engorges in sleep. This calls for a few local treatments by a doctor who is a nose and throat specialist. Second, a kind or premature, let us say, old age creeping upon the crumpled, general flabbiness of the neck, of daily physical training for the neck of the crumpled muscle. This calls for hygienic reform—better living. Try tickling off five or six miles of oxygen on your pedometer around the park or up town a ways, every day or every evening if you are a slave.

A Month of Birthdays
M. H. says he gets a book from his mother on every birthday. He must have collected quite a library by this time. Also, remember that his birthday does NOT come on Feb. 29.

An Oshkosh man had had no intention of suing the motorist for damages until he saw by the newspaper just how bad the accident was. We suppose the newspaper was submitted as proof at the trial.

Pioneering With Bill
Bill the Collector's idea of an early settler is one who pays his bills regularly on the first of the month. That man might be a good subject for a picture on a magazine cover, considering that Bill sees him only once a month. One thing an early settler can well get along without is a club. We, too, have somehow always had a horror for clubs.

Almost time for the casualty lists to open up in the papers. The fifth of July comes oftener than it used to, now that everybody has an automobile.

Dear Rollo: For candidate in the nearest man contest I nominate the guy who sat ahead of me on the Kaukauna car last night. All the way from Onondaga I tried to get a peek over his shoulder at Post-Crescent he was reading. Knowing that his stop was at Little Chute, I got ready to appropriate his paper. Before he came to his station, he clipped out the Seen, Heard & Imagined column and threw the rest of the paper in a snow bank.

AS A LEAP YEAR PROPOSAL

We propose:
That income taxpayers leap the usual questions and answer only the following:
1. Which would you rather have, and overcoat or the soldiers bonus?
2. Under deductions for charitable contributions have you included money lost at Mah Jongg?
3. Can you spare a match?
We suggest that February is short on days because March is so windy it blows in ahead of time.

Full Furnace Saves Coal

(Orion O. Oakes, in Popular Science Monthly.)
If you want to save coal, don't be stingy with it. When you put coal on your furnace, fill the firebox full. Putting coal on your furnace in dribbles is wasteful, whereas piling the coal up until it reaches the height of the middle of the fire door is true economy.

In starting a banked fire in the morning, says Mr. Oakes, whether your heating system is steam, hot water or hot air, shake the grate once or twice to remove the packed ashes and permit the air to get through. Then spread a few shovels of coal over the surface. These will ignite in a few minutes and start the heat circulating through the house. When they are fully ignited, the firebox should be filled with fresh fuel. During the day do not throw on a few shovels of coal every hour or so in the belief that this method is economical. As a matter of fact, it actually wastes fuel, causes more work, and decreases furnace efficiency. Whenever the furnace is attended to—which need not be oftener than every eight hours in the most severe weather—the firebox should be filled with fresh fuel until the top layer of coal is half way between the top and bottom levels of the fire door in the center, sloping down at the front so that the coal will not fall out when the door is opened.

In severe weather the furnace should contain a bed of live coals extending to within about two inches of the fire door. On a mild day the live coals may rest on a bed of ashes as deep as six inches. Do not let ashes accumulate in severe weather. Shake the furnace every three or four hours to get rid of them. For banking at night shake out the ashes and fill the firebox full of coal. Then close the damper after allowing a few minutes for free gases to ignite. In all cases you will find that less coal will be used and more heat obtained by maintaining a deep fire rather than a shallow one.

Need Specialist To Guide College

(From The Tulsa Tribune.)
A trained man or woman for each specialized task is becoming an accepted fact. We expect scientific methods to be used on a job that calls for a specialist. We don't put a criminal lawyer to tunneling a mountain nor attempt to solve a knotty legal tangle with the best brains of a cow college. Yet there are times and places when we employ just about such methods in our school administration, the most important business in our eyes, ten of government. Too often schools and our universities are governed almost entirely by a doctor, lawyer, merchant, chief with little heed given to the advice of the trained educator. We need the splendid work of those business men on these boards, but we need also the specialist in education.
The American Association of University Professors protests this system of administration and is going to demand a voice in the government of

We always get along pretty well with the man who looks at his money pretty closely. He is out to introduce the gentleman on his twenty dollar bills to best advantage. Q. How many people are employed in Marshall Field's in Chicago? A. G. A. The Marshall Field Company says that the number of employees varies with the season. For instance, during December the payroll is between 14,000 and 15,000 while in February it runs from 9,000 to 10,000.
Q. Please explain the significance of Watt's painting called "Hope." A. G. J.
A. Many critics have "thought into" Watt's painting varying significance of an allegorical nature. In "G. F. Watts," by Hugh Macmillan, there is an interpretation of the painting, portions of which we quote: "We perceive that, while the attitude is woe-begone, it is not so listless as it appears. There is a great deal of latent energy in it. It is beginning to be stirred with fresh strength and though his eyes are altogether hidden. . . . One of the shimmers in the dimness, prophetic of that morning start into which Heaper will be changed, and which will yet lead her to the cradle of a new birth of joy and light and blessedness." Speaking of the fact that the lyre has left but one string, the author says: "One string is always left, however empty and desolate may be the lyre of life on which the still, and music of humanity may be played; and from this the other strings are to be tuned in happier circumstances. . . . Hope stoops and strains to hear the note of the one string of her lyre—the concentrated music that can come from the remaining chord. . . . We might suppose that, by placing the figure of Hope on the summit of the globe, Watts meant to indicate the universality of the yearning."
Q. What is the present condition of Mary Washington's grave? C. L. W.
A. It is stated that a handsome monument has been erected on the site of the burial place of Mary Washington, near Fredericksburg, Virginia, and that the ground is well cared for.
Q. Can kelp be used in basketry? J. E. McK.
A. The Department of Agriculture says that it knows of no process which will make the kelp sufficiently pliable so that it could be used for basketry.
Q. How many radio sets are in operation? W. N. D.
A. This is a matter of conjecture, but an estimate has placed the number at 3,000,000 which gives a potential radio public of 10,000,000.
Q. Why and where was the term "union jack" first used? B. W.
A. When the union of the crowns of England and Scotland occurred, upon the accession of James VI, of Scotland, to the English throne as James I of England, the cross of St. Andrew, patron saint of Scotland, and that of St. George, patron saint of England were combined. This was the first union jack, as it is generally termed, although strictly speaking, the name of the flag is "great union," being a jack only when flown from the jack-staff on a ship of war. James I always signed his name "Jacques." And it is believed in many quarters that the jack and jacks of the navy derive their names from that fact. Others contend that "jack" was used as early as the close of the sixteenth century.
Q. What were the French Spoilation claims? C. R. L.
A. The French Spoilation claims were claims on the United States government by American merchants for the losses of ships and cargoes, 1793-1800, at the hands of the French. Between 1800 and 1885, 50 bills to reimburse the claimants or their descendants were brought before Congress and appropriations were twice voted, but in each case vetoed by the president. No redress was obtained until 1895 when the adjudication of claims was given to the Court of Claims and decisions were reached awarding the sum of $4,800,000 to the petitioners.
Q. How long a ride is it from Luxor to the heart of the Valley where the tomb of Tut-ankh-amen is located? C. B. H.
A. A motorist can cover the distance in about twenty-five minutes.
Q. Is the word Bible always begun with a capital letter? D. A.
A. Bible is begun with a capital only when it applies to a book which is considered sacred, as the Holy Bible or the Mohammedan Bible—the Koran. The word is usually used in this sense, so appears capitalized. When the noun is used merely to identify other collections of authoritative writings, a capital is not used.
Q. Who was the last of the soldier dead to be returned from France? C. H.
A. Charles W. Graves was the last of the war dead to be brought from overseas. He was buried in Rome, Georgia.
Q. Can motion pictures be sent by radio? F. W.
A. This has not been accomplished yet, but the mechanism is being developed with the expectation of transmitting motion pictures by radio, so that events may be portrayed before our eyes as they are happening in distant lands.
Q. Is the widow of General Logan still living? M. A. H.
A. Mrs. John A. Logan, widow of the General and ex-senator, died in Washington Feb. 22, last, at the age of 84.

Open Mail Order List For Hempel

Jenny Lind Traditions Are Preserved in Concert Here
March 24

Mail orders for the Jenny Lind concert to be given by Frieda Hempel at Lawrence Memorial chapel on March 28 will be received at the office of the Lawrence Conservatory of Music from now until the opening of the public seat sale on March 24. Miss Hempel is the most famous artist who has been brought to Appleton for a concert for many years.

All the atmosphere of the concert of Jenny Lind are preserved in Miss Hempel's interpretation of the Swedish Nightingale. She of all the singers was chosen for the historical centennial concert in Carnegie hall on Oct. 6, 1920, the hundredth anniversary of the birth of Jenny Lind. History repeated itself when Miss Hempel arrived in Springfield, Mass. for her famous concert and sang from the old balcony where Jenny Lind had sung. While the school children stood below singing America, Miss Hempel tossed white carnations to them just as Jenny Lind had done.

Below was Miss Lind's century old coach drawn by four horses.

Miss Hempel has given 100 Jenny Lind concerts in America since the original one in 1920. She is booked for more than 100 in 1925 in the English provinces. The Jenny Lind concert was Hempel's greatest London triumph.

How This Woman Got Strength

Put Up 300 Quarts Fruit, 500 Glasses Jelly and Took Care of Four Children

Norwalk, Ia.—"I have been meaning for some time to write and tell you how much good your medicine has done me. When I started to take it I was almost bed fast and would have been in bed all the time if I had had any one to care for my children. There was so much swelling and pain that I could hardly take a step. I took seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, and found that so healing. I am not entirely well yet for I was in bad shape when I started your medicine, but I am so much better that I am not afraid to recommend it, and I think if I keep on taking it, it will cure me. I have done my work all alone this summer, caring for four children, and I cannot 300 quarts of fruit and made 500 glasses of jelly, so you see I must be better. I feel pretty good all the time and I am glad to tell others about the medicine."—Mrs. C. J. WENNERMARK, Box 141, Norwalk, Iowa.

Cold Chicken Can Be Served In Tasty Ways

Line a dish with fresh lettuce leaves. Cut the cold chicken in joints and arrange them around the dish. Cover the chicken with a thick layer of Bechamel sauce and garnish with plenty of chopped aspic. Garnish the base of the lettuce with aspic jelly and beets and a hard-boiled egg, sliced in fancy shapes.

To make the Bechamel sauce: One fourth pound lean veal, two ounces lean ham or bacon, a slice of carrot, one small onion, a scrap of mace, two peppercorns, one teaspoonful arrow-root and one gill cream.

Cut up the veal and bacon and put them in a stewpan with the mace, onion, carrot and peppercorns, and cover with one and a half pints of cold water. Simmer gently for two hours. Strain into a bowl, and when cold, remove every particle of fat, put in a stewpan and boil until it is reduced to half a pint. Mix the arrowroot smoothly with a little cold water, stir it in and continue stirring while it boils for five minutes. Leave until almost cold, stir into the cream, then use to cover the chicken.

This dish should be kept on ice or in a very cool place until wanted. Mince up about half a pound of cold chicken and a very little ham. Put one and a half ounces of butter into a small pan, and into this fry one finely chopped onion, thicken with a dessertspoonful of flour, and then gradually stir in one-fourth pint of good stock or gravy; simmer gently for 10 minutes.

Now add the minced meat and season with nutmeg, pepper and salt. When these are well mixed, add one beaten egg, stir for a few moments longer and then stand the mixture on one side to cool. When firm, shape into outlets and cover each one with egg and bread crumbs. Fry in deep fat and drain well, and arrange in a circle on hot dish round a center of mashed potato.

BOY SCOUTS PROVE WORTH IN DISASTER

By Associated Press
Tokio—Boy Scouts of Japan have come to the front wonderfully since the earthquake and fire. After working hard to house and feed children made homeless, they set themselves to alleviating spiritual needs, a work so necessary under the circumstances.

Education centers were established under the name "The field school for little children," and leaders of Boy Scouts from the schools and universities volunteered as teachers. Books, pencils and paper were supplied free. Physical examinations and treatment are given to the children and their spiritual as well as their physical wellbeing is vigilantly cared for. The good spirit that has been kindered has resulted in an increased attendance daily.

This educational service will be continued until the schools can take care of the children. The movement started in Tokio, is spreading to other districts.

GERMAN USES TRICKERY TO ROB HIS OWN HOME

He visited many factories and promised many jobs, but did not make any definite contracts.

At last he confided to some of his newly-made friends that he was tired of hotel life and would like to have accommodations in a private house.

HOMEOWNER'S TAX REDUCED $50,000 BY HOMESTEAD LAW

3,000 Appleton Homeowners
Can Take Advantage of New State Law

Probably $50,000 in taxes will be removed from the class of taxpayers and shifted upon the shoulders of another class of property owners in Appleton this year by the operation of the new homestead exemption law which becomes effective this year.

The law enacted by the 1923 legislature allows taxpayers an exemption of $500 on their homesteads. It was enacted principally for the benefit of the farmers, and it is estimated that thousands of dollars will be saved to the farmers by the exemption act.

Various problems in the process of assessment and levying of taxes are foreseen under the new law. Assuming that there are 8,000 persons in Appleton that own their own homes, a $500 exemption on their homesteads would be a million and a half dollars less in the total assessed valuation for the city, according to A. C. Rule, city assessor.

BOOST TAX RATE

To obtain the same amount of taxes levied a few months ago, the city council under the operation of the exemption act would naturally have to increase the tax rate. Last year's rate of approximately $33 on every $1,000 of taxable property would have to be increased to about $35. But even with this increase in the tax rate, home owners would still be reaping a reduction in taxes.

A home owner who paid $89 on his home assessed at $3,000 and taxed at $33 per $1,000, would under the $500 exemption and a $35 tax rate have to pay only $37.50. The owner of a business place assessed at $3,000, would under the changed conditions have to pay a tax of $105 instead of $99.

To secure the exemption of $500 on a homestead, the owner must file with the city assessor between Jan. 1 and July 1 an affidavit of ownership. The law will require a readjustment in the tax and assessment rolls of every community it is believed.

The state tax commission has sent a notice to the assessors which explains the law as follows:

"Under this statute and the construction given it by the courts, it is not believed that absolute ownership is essential, the report of the tax commission stated. The following classes of property may be exempted as follows:

"1. The actual owner occupying the premises as a homestead in all cases.
"2. The purchaser under a land contract, occupying the premises as a homestead.
"3. The fee owner of real estate subject to a mortgage, occupying the premises as a homestead.

"4. One of the two joint tenants or tenants in common if both actually occupy the premises as a homestead.
"5. The owner of a duplex apartment house occupying a portion or apartment thereof as his homestead.

"6. Two or more co-owners of such property each occupying a portion or apartment as homesteads.
"7. Tenants under short term leases are never assessed for the taxes and for that reason are not entitled to the exemption. Tenants under a long term lease who are required to pay the taxes would seem to be entitled to the exemption.

"The exemption applies to the assessment of the buildings and improvements on the homestead only, and not to the land itself.
"Members of the same family living together as such are entitled to only one exemption even when two or more of them own an interest in the premises occupied as a homestead.

60 Are Signed To Join Safety Club When It Is Organized Monday

Public Is Invited To Massmeeting at Chamber of Commerce to Devise Means of Increasing Safety in Motor World.

More than 60 people have volunteered to date to join the Outagamie co safe drivers club when it organizes at the massmeeting of motorists at 7:30 Monday evening at the chamber of commerce rooms. This will be a public gathering and everybody is invited.

This response to the mere announcement that a club might be formed is considered a good indication of the demand for an organization of this kind and a public sentiment for more careful driving to minimize accidents.

The community welfare committee of the chamber of commerce, which has this project in charge, has decided not to have a speaker at the meeting Monday, because the entire time will be taken up with organization of the club. Bylaws have been outlined and will be recommended for adoption. Officers then will be elected.

Membership in the club obligates drivers to observe rules which will be adopted, and to use his influence to bring to justice flagrant violators of traffic laws when the offense is committed outside of police scrutiny. The pledge of the Motorists League for Countrywide Preservation also is embodied in the agreement, and means the cleaning up of a campsite after leaving it, and protecting the woodlands and recreation spots from damage or possible fires.

Dues probably will be fixed at one dollar. This will include cost of a booklet containing bylaws and rules, and a membership plate to be attached to the automobile.

Those who have agreed to join to date are:

SOUTH IS BUYING LOTS OF LUMBER

Plenty of Money for Building and Expansion South of Dixie Line

Though demand for lumber remains comparatively slack in some important consuming territories, due to recent bad weather, its total volume is very fair and the market is strong in virtually all its departments, says the American Lumberman, Chicago. The southern pine industry reports that while the middle west and the east are buying only moderately until the more general resumption of outdoor work, the south is a heavy consumer of lumber. That section is very prosperous compared with past years. It has plenty of money and is rapidly developing its resources and industrial life. The result is a great amount of building, for much of the lumber produced. There is again a good demand for timbers and yard stock from the oil fields, exports to South America and the West Indies hold up well. While most of the larger mills lately have been able to sort up their stocks, and are therefore in position to handle more orders and a larger variety of them, supplies generally remain light. Prices are therefore firmly maintained in view of the good prospects for spring business. The market's only weak point is transit cars, which are being put out rather freely by small mills in urgent need of business, and which are entering consumption slowly, due partly to current market conditions in the northern section, but more particularly to most of these cars being badly assorted with low grade lumber.

Hardwood demand is said to be a

U. S. WARNS AGAINST SPURIOUS $20 BILLS

The counterfeiters are busy again. A number of spurious bank notes are being circulated, according to word received here from the treasury department, the most dangerous of which is a new counterfeit $20 federal reserve note. Green Bay banks have not been asked to honor any of these as yet, it was said this morning.

The bill is drawn on the federal reserve bank of Atlanta, Ga., bears a portrait of Grover Cleveland, the check letter "G" plate No. 41, and the signature of W. G. McAdoo and John Burke. The seal is described as too deep a shade of blue.

COPYRIGHT OWNERS WANT STATIONS TO PAY FOR PROGRAMS

Broadcasters Declare Songs
Are Advertised By Radio
Entertainment

Another battle as bitter as that waged last year by the radioophone broadcasting stations of the country on the one side and the American Society of Authors, Composers, and Publishers on the other was opened yesterday.

Now it is publishers of copyright classical music who have thrown down the gauntlet. Certain of these publishers have notified the National Association of Broadcasters that they can no longer broadcast music generally rated as classical which are protected by copyright unless a certain stipulation is paid for the privilege.

"It will simmer down to the same sort of fight that marked the fight with the composers, authors, and publishers of copyright jazz," said the manager of a broadcasting station. "Broadcasters cannot take any attitude other than that assumed in the previous fight: that dissemination of music via radio really is an advertisement for the publishers' songs, if it is anything. Broadcasting is not paid for directly, of course, and we cannot take the stand that we should pay for something which we are to give away. Besides, there is a wealth of classical music which is not covered by copyright and which includes practically the cream of that class of production."

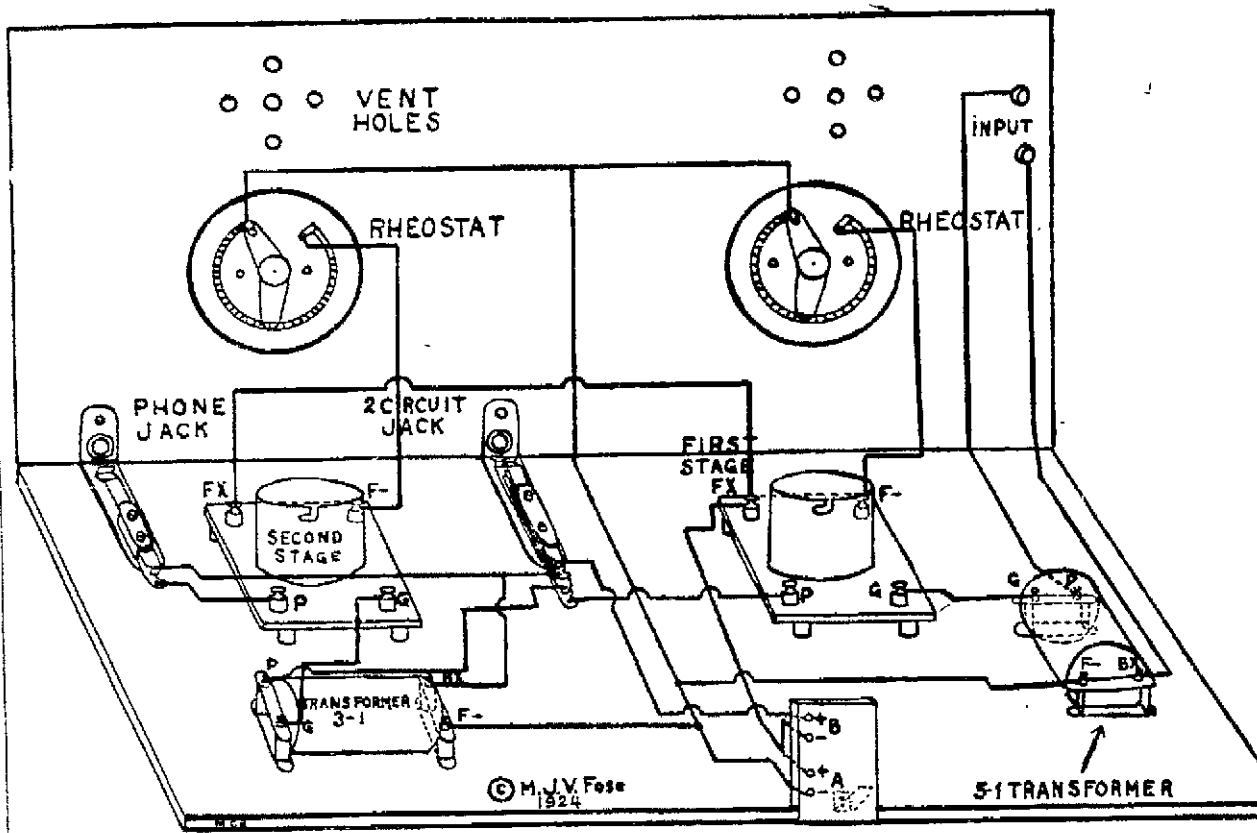

"This action was unexpected as was the stand of the jazz organization, and for the time being has placed broadcast stations in the predicament of revising programs already printed by substituting noncopyright material for the copyright. That means trouble for the copyright. But it doesn't mean that the publishers have gained much."

"Of course, I can't speak for the directors of the National Association of Broadcasters, but I feel safe in predicting that their stand in the matter will not be to yield to the demands for payment."

The fight between the American Society of Authors, Composers, and Publishers and the broadcast stations, which was waged bitterly in the press and over the air, resulted in the winning of the new industry of radioophone transmission for public entertainment. After formation of the National Association of Broadcasters a rival to the American Society of Authors, Composers, and Publishers sprang into being. This embraced composers and song writers who turned their products over to the broadcasters for the advertising it brought them.

RADIO BROADCASTING NEWS

2-Stage Amplifying Unit

Not Difficult To Build 2 Stage Amplifying Unit

Flashes Out
Of The Air

M. J. V. Fose, who is writing a series of articles on how to construct the radio receiving sets, describes the "hookup" of a 2-stage audio frequency amplifier in the following article. In a previous article Mr. Fose told of the parts that are necessary for construction of this unit. He also has described construction on a two-circuit detector unit to go with this amplifier.

Mr. Fose will be glad to answer questions concerning construction of these sets if letters are addressed to the Radio Editor of the Post-Crescent and stamped, self-addressed envelopes are enclosed for reply.

Here is the second article on construction of the two-stage amplifier:

Pictured above is the "hookup" showing the parts that I named last Saturday in these columns for a two stage amplifier. If the "picture hook-up" is studied closely and the instructions for wiring are followed there is no reason why one cannot make a successful two stage audio frequency unit.

The panel should be fitted to the baseboard first, then place the small holes should be drilled through the panel at the bottom so they pierce the baseboard in the center and then the panel can be fastened to the baseboard temporarily until the places are marked where the holes are to be drilled for mounting the parts as shown above on the panel.

Measure off four equal spaces on the panel and then place the Bradley rheostats as shown, mark the three holes for each rheostat and place these about two inches above the baseboard. Then spot the holes for the vent holes about 2 inches above those of the rheostats.

PANEL IS REVERSED

Always remember that you are working from the rear of the panel when consulting the illustration above and place the parts as shown in the illustration. The two small holes for fastening the rheostats will have to be countersunk if wire rheostats are used so that the pointer can pass over them easily. The two input binding posts should be mounted as shown on the right hand corner of the panel. The rear panel can then be mounted with the battery posts as shown and then fastened to the baseboard. There are but four posts on this unit as there is no ground or aerial post used.

JACKS SOLDERED FIRST

Before placing the jacks in the panel cut four strips of busbar wire about 6 inches long and solder one end to each soldering lug of the two circuit jack, when this has been accomplished it can be placed in the panel and fastened securely. Another piece of wire about 4 inches long is soldered to the lower lug of the phone jack placed near the left end of the panel as shown. By soldering the jacks first one will experience no difficulty with the exception of bending the wires to their respective places.

WIRING UNITS TOGETHER

In order to make the wiring as easy as possible I shall name the inaccessible first, and if instructions are followed carefully, one will experience no difficulty in wiring the "tight" places.

Assuming that you have placed the units in their proper places on the panel, and have placed the sockets, rear panel with the battery posts, jacks, and input binding posts; the first wire should be from the post "F" on the tube socket as shown above to the right post of the rheostat as shown. Another wire is placed in the same manner on the second rheostat. Now place a wire from the left post of the second stage rheostat to the left post of the first stage rheostat. A piece of wire is now cut that will reach from the rear battery post marked "A" to the wire between the two rheostats and soldered. The next move is from the transformer posts marked "F" to the wire running from the "A" rear posts to the wire across the two rheostats. Both transformer "F" posts are soldered to this wire, as shown.

The rear binding posts "AX" and "BX" are wired together and another wire soldered to the post AX and run to the "F" of the first stage socket and then from there over to the post marked "F" or "X" on the other socket.

Now a piece of busbar is fastened to the post marked "G" on the tube socket marked "first stage" to the "G" post of the 5 to 1 transformer. Now take the lower wire of the center or two circuit jack and fasten this to the post marked "P" of the first stage socket. The wire above or third wire of the same jack is then connected to the 3 to 1 transformer post marked "P". The second wire from the top of the same jack is then run to the top lug of the phone jack and soldered. The last or top wire of the two circuit jack is then run to the rear binding post marked "B" and can be covered with spaghetti if the reader so desires.

Now we will return to the phone jack and fasten the lower wire to the post marked "P" in the second stage tube socket. Another wire is then run from the "G" post of the same socket to the "G" post of the 3 to 1 transformer at the left. A wire is now soldered to the wire running between the two jacks (the only one connecting) and fastened to the "BX" or "X" post of the same transformer.

We shall now divert our attention to the 5 to 1 transformer at the right. A wire is run from the "B" or "X" post of this transformer to the lower input binding post as shown. The last wire that completes the unit is run from the upper input post to the post on the same transformer marked "P".

CONNECTING THE UNITS AND BATTERIES

A wire is run from the rear post marked "B" to the tuner post marked "B" and then to the B battery terminal marked minus or negative. Assuming that you have connected all three batteries together, that is the minus to the extreme positive posts or in series. Now wire from the "A" of the amplifier to the post marked the same on the detector unit and thence to the negative of the A battery. Note—It will require three dry cells if you are using the UV 199 tubes and these will have to be connected in series or positive to negative as the B batteries were connected. If a 6 volt storage battery is used and the UV 200 tube the 201A should be used in the amplifiers and will NOT require any extra A batteries.

The posts of both units marked "AX" are now connected and the same wire run to the "AX" or positive side of the three connected dry cells or "A" batteries that are used in place of the "B" volt battery. A wire is now run from the "BX" post of the amplifier unit to the extreme end of the three "B" batteries and connected there to the positive post. The "BX" post of the tuner is connected to the 14 or 18 volt tap of the "first" B battery from the negative side.

A jack plug is then connected to the phone cord tips and placed in the center of the jack. The center jack plugged in uses only one amplifier while the jack to the extreme right of the panel facing the front of it, is the one to use for loud tones or a loud speaker.

WANTS UNCLE SAM TO BROADCAST FOR ENTIRE COUNTRY

Federal Controlled Radio Only Way To Continue Broadcasting Service

Brooklyn, N. Y.—The only way radio listeners can safely control the class of programs broadcast to them is through federal adoption of this form of entertainment.

Thus only, says Alex Elsemann, radio manufacturer and former president of the National Radio Chamber of Commerce, will the public be able to express its preference for whatever it likes to hear by radio.

"In years to come," Elsemann predicts, "the campaign literature of candidates for office will contain among the pre-election promises assurances that the new man or woman, if elected, will supply better broadcasting than his or her predecessor."

But before this eventually, he says, must come the federal adoption of special radio reception tax. This will become a necessity, he goes on, and only those broadcasters will survive who will be repaid financially for their services.

"Those stations which are making a charge for the use of their plants," says Elsemann, "are today furnishing the highest quality of entertainment. This is the only kind of broadcasting that will develop a real and lasting public interest in the art."

"It appears to be unsafe to hope for a continuation of good broadcasting unless the broadcasters are properly compensated. It is quite within the bounds of reason to suggest that a federal tax be placed on all receiving sets based on the number of vacuum tubes. The tax need be nominal, but multiplied by millions of receiving sets, a substantial fund could thus be guaranteed for the maintenance of powerful federal stations operated strictly in accordance with the wishes of the people."

"We can hardly appreciate too keenly," Elsemann concludes, "the marvelous romance of this new means of communication. Its power for good or evil is tremendous. A newspaper can hardly be held responsible for anything that it publishes, but the words of broadcasters melt away and no record is made. It would appear, therefore, that the ultimate controlling agency in each station should be governmental."

GRID LEAK VITAL PART OF YOUR SET

Adjustment Is Necessary To Secure Greatest Efficiency From Tubes

Each detector tube, even among tubes of the same type, has a definite value of the grid leak resistance at which it works most efficiently. The variation among tubes of different types is tremendous. In all cases the exact value of the leak for maximum efficiency is only found by trial and needs delicate adjustment.

Some leaks depend on etching contacts moving over graphite pencil marks drawn on a straight line from one contact post to the other which in turn is attached to the grid condenser, others that have a smoother operation are composed of two columns of grid material of special composition, and an adjusting knob which applies or removes pressure from the discs. The resistance in this manner can be varied with perfect smoothness from 34 megohm to 10 megohms, which is almost impossible with the sliding contact or pencil marks of this sort of grid material. A device of this kind can vary the resistance between these limits while your set is working and proper value selected instantly which gives the loudest reception of signals. Proper adjustment of the grid leak with the Bradley leak has increased many a set 50 per cent in volume by the correct adjustment of this resistance.

WANTS EVERY RAILROAD EMPLOYEE TO HAVE RADIO

New York—Sir Henry Thornton, chairman and president of the Canadian National railways, has announced here plans for obtaining the loyalty and enthusiastic support of the employees on his 22,000 mile system through the radio.

Sir Henry proposes to have in the Canadian National the first railroad in the world where every employee has a radio in his home so that over it he can hear of the hopes, ambitions, and plans of his president at least once a week.

To give this personal touch, the Canadian National will establish broadcasting stations at certain points on the lines, and provision will be made to sell the employee radio receiving outfits at cost.

His plans for "humanizing" the Canadian National railway were briefly outlined before the Bond club

Gentlemen:—

The service from the Crosley Radio Set Ace Type V which you recently installed in your home has been a revelation. It was a revelation to me that such distant points could be heard so plainly on a single tube set. We have nightly listened to points in Texas, Georgia, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Nebraska, and have heard clearly concerts from points over twelve hundred miles distant.

I have no hesitation in heartily recommending this set to anyone contemplating the installation of a radio set.

Yours truly,

DE FOREST CLAIMS HE CONTROLS RADIO TUBES

New York—Were it not for the invention by Lee De Forest of the three-electrode vacuum tube, there would be no broadcast radio reception today.

This is the conclusion made here from a statement by Charles Gilbert, vice president of the De Forest Radio Telegraph & Telephone Company, to clear up points in litigation between his company and the Radio Corporation of America.

According to Gilbert, the vacuum tubes sold today by the R. C. A. are licensed under the De Forest patents, and the litigation concerns merely a phase of marketing the tubes.

The De Forest Company, he says, will continue to manufacture its own tubes.

Relay Broadcasting

KDKA at Pittsburgh is sending its concerts on to the Pacific coast by means of a relay broadcasting station at Hastings, Neb. The operation is performed on short wavelengths, making this a duplicate experiment in future broadcasting.

of New York at its regular monthly luncheon. Among the railroad officials who were present to listen to Sir Henry were Walter D. Hines, former director general of the United States railway administration; A. J. Connelley, vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad; A. H. Harris, New York Central, and C. W. Huntington, president of the Virginian railway.

WIRED WIRELESS

Fans interested in wired wireless may be able to obtain a recent publication on this subject prepared under the direction of the chief signal officer and the Bureau of Standards. It is called "Introduction to Line Radio Communication" and can be gotten for 10 cents from the superintendent of documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

Much code interference can be cut down by reducing the size of the aerial. Eighty to one hundred feet of single wire usually proves best.

MAMMOTH CROWD GOES TO SEYMOUR FOR INSTITUTE

Prize Winners Are Announced in Baby and Poster Contests

BY W. F. WINSETT
Enormous crowds were drawn to Seymour Thursday and Friday for the farm institute. Numerous helpful talks were given and there was considerable entertainment. Entertainment was furnished by pupils of the rural and city schools and instruction in improved methods of farming was given by J. B. Hays, college of agriculture, who spoke on the "Efficient Raising of Poultry." R. A. Amundson, agricultural agent of Outagamie county, spoke on the "Formation of Boys' and Girls' Pledge Clubs in Outagamie county." James N. Kavanaugh, agent of Brown county, who spoke on "The Profitable Dairy Cow and Balanced Rations," and P. G. Schwartz, Waukesha, who spoke on "Alfalfa and Apple Raising in Wisconsin."

The lectures were interspersed with songs by the girls' glee club of Seymour high school and by a boys' quartette and instrumental music by two orchestras, one of them consisting of Harry Erick and two other sons of Dr. R. C. Finkle, at times broke up the seriousness of the lectures and with his usual skill in entertaining.

MANY EXHIBITS
The grain and vegetable show consisted of 50 samples of potatoes, corn, silage, alfalfa and grains which farmers entered in competition, and rural school pupils displayed a large number of large posters advertising the institute. But nine babies entered by as many mothers was the most popular contest of the institute.

On Thursday evening the rural schools near Seymour entertained an audience of 900 people in the auditorium with vocal and instrumental music, recitations, dialogues and drills. Fathers and mothers of the pupils followed the school children to the entertainment and, with the city people packed the house.

In the perfect baby contest, superintended by Mrs. P. G. Graham, Mrs. C. R. Blanshan, and Dr. Shepherd, eleven mothers entered their babies from one to two years of age, and while each baby was the best in the group, only four babies were permitted by the rules of the contest to draw prizes as perfect babies.

For perfect baby, under one year old Bernice Schaumburg won first prize and Gilbert Leavitt, second prize.

For perfect baby one year and under two years, James Sutliff won first prize and Raymond Lembe, second prize.

PUPILS MAKE POSTERS
In the institute poster-advertising contest the pupils who entered specimens of their skill were Wayne Hillegas, John Greb, Harold Walsch, Reinhold Mueller, Gordon Marks, Norman Zuleger, Philip Schwab, George Ziesemer, Eldin Greener, Lester Colling, Carlton Ziesemer, Norman Miller, Norbert Miller, Norman Wussow, Emil Miller, Gilbert Kuntzman, Elmer Gosse, Reinhold Mueller, Alvin Colling, Rachel Tubbs, Ethel Buholtz, Erma Mueller, Celia Ebert, Olga Mueller, Santier Evans, Gertrude Ullmer, William Miller, Esther Schnow, Mary Ullmer, Florence Kroner, Myrna Burmeister, Edna Tesch, Margaret Lorke and Olive Ries.

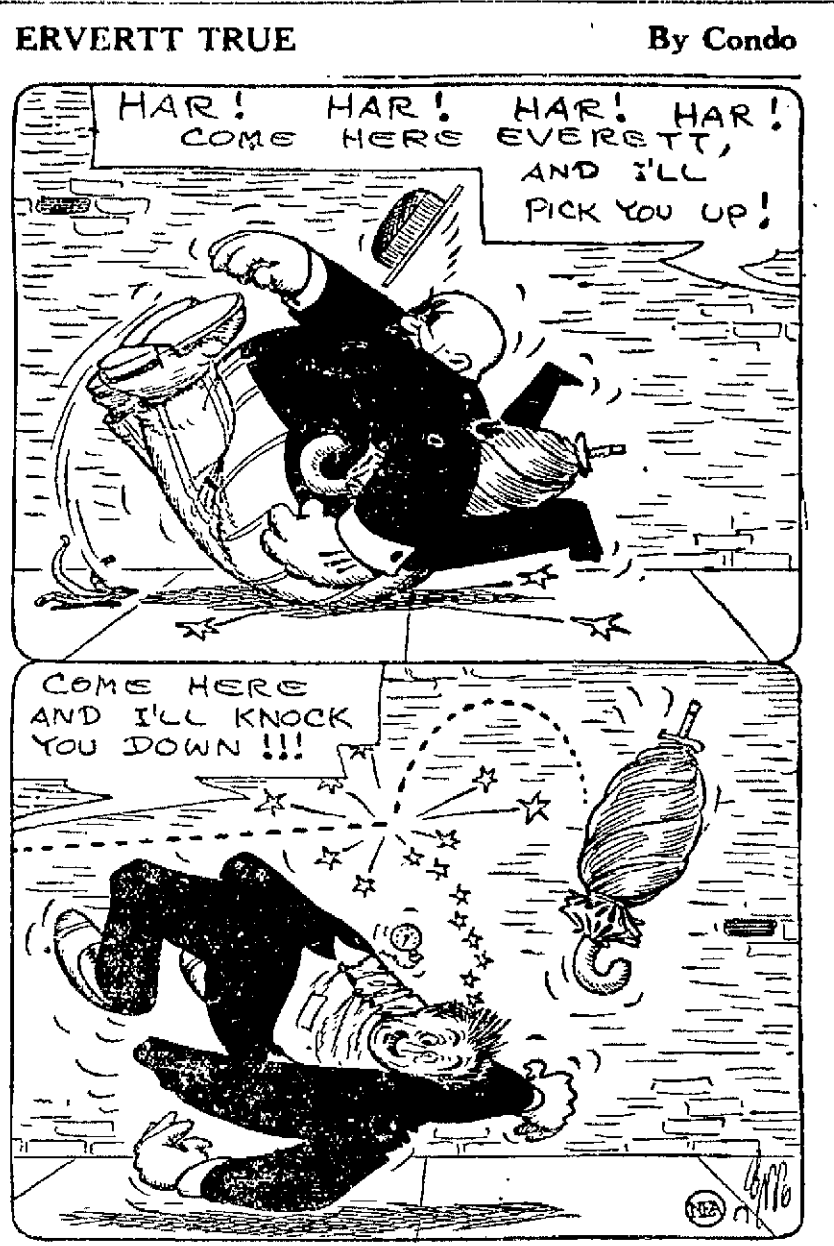

In the poster contest, ninth prize was won by Gilbert Kuntzman, eighth by Lester Colling, seventh by Santier Evans, sixth by Gordon Marks, fifth by Celia Ebert, fourth by William Miller, third by Reinhold Mueller, second by Olive Ries and first by Edna Tesch.

The nine prizes won by the pupils named above were donated by the citizens of Seymour as an incentive to the pupils of the rural schools to do their best in the production of posters for the advertisement, directly and indirectly, of the Seymour Institute. Consolation prizes were given to all pupils who entered the contest but did not succeed in getting one of the regular prizes, by Falk & Wolk, Seymour.

C. R. Blanshan, acted as chairman of the meetings.

NEW TRAIN SERVICE STARTS ON MONDAY
On Monday the new train service of two extra trains of the Ashland division, Chicago and Northwestern railroad, will become effective. The trains are to take the place of two removed sometime ago. According to Attorney R. N. Van Doren, formerly a New London attorney and now a solicitor for the Northwestern road, it has been found impracticable to restore trains 131 and 132, as had been requested by the Appleton Chamber of Commerce. The schedule finally settled upon is the one originally proposed by the railroad to the state railroad rate commission. The revised schedule gives Appleton Junction a new train arriving here from Eland in the evening and returning to Eland the same evening. The train leaves Eland at 5:20 P. M. and arrives at Appleton Junction at 5 o'clock. On its return trip it leaves Appleton Junction at 5:30 P. M. and arrives at Eland at 11 o'clock. According to Mr. Van Doren, the new trains will meet the needs for better passenger and mail service.

MEASLES EPIDEMIC BEGINS TO DECLINE
The number of new cases of measles reported took a considerable drop Saturday. After 13 had been reported to Dr. W. C. Felton, city health commissioner, the day before and 10 cases two days previous, Saturday's list of new cases included only 6. Whether the rapid spread of the disease has been checked is as yet indefinite. Teachers in public schools have urged pupils to avoid attending dance at theaters until the epidemic has abated.

IRVING ZUELKE
MUSIC NOTES
BRUNSWICK VICTROLA

Brunswick Isham Jones Orchestra

An Exclusive Brunswick Orchestra

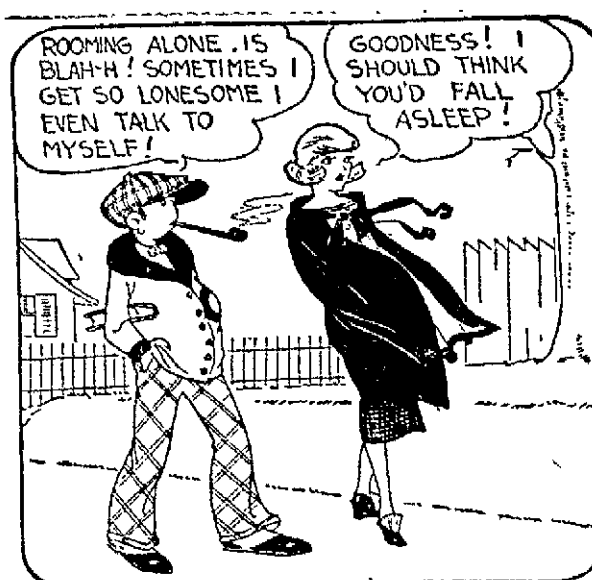

This dance aggregation is widely known as the most popular dance orchestra in the country and has a following of enthusiastic admirers from coast to coast.

Isham Jones' Orchestra leaped into fame some time ago when they introduced an entirely new element in to American dance music on Brunswick Records. That was at the time when "Jazz music" was at its peak in popularity. Isham Jones then imbued into his records his now famous, soft, melodious style of harmony; a type of music that had no resemblance to the harsh "tin-pan" dance music of that time. Such pleasing music was instantly popular, and his records have been in great demand for the past five years and consequently have developed a wonderful melody, plus a supreme arrangement and rhythm that is incomparable in its harmonious qualities and musical precision.

Isham Jones' Orchestra is one of the very excellent reasons why Brunswick is looked forward to for the newest and best dance interpretations. Of course they record exclusively for Brunswick.

LETTER FROM JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT TO SYDNEY CARTON

Syd, old man, you certainly are in for it now. I don't know by what hocus-fokus Leslie has come to the conclusion that John Alden Prescott Jr. is your child. But the fact remains she thinks you are that baby's father.

Can you beat it? If what you think is true, and what I am beginning to believe more and more each day that the baby is mine and little Peter's, all I have to say is "greater love than this hath no man," that he take up on himself the parentage of his friend's child.

Honestly, Syd, I don't know what to do. I can't help this thing in any way. I tried to dissuade Leslie from it and she immediately closed her lips, but I could see by the expression in her eyes that she still held to her theory.

What was it, old man, that you said that first night here that would give her that impression? She certainly got it from something you said yourself and the worst part of it all is I think she would rather almost anybody would be the father of that baby than you. Isn't that just like a woman?

She hasn't told me a word about that thousand dollars that you pinned inside the baby's coat and although I think this is very strange I don't dare ask her about it. Lord, Syd! I am in the devil of a fix. If I didn't love the little imp so much I think I should hate him. He keeps me all the time trying to skirt around things. The most innocent subjects of conversation become human documents which point toward you as a gay Lothario who has deceived some poor girl when, if the truth were known, you are innocent. As far as the receiving is concerned, even if the kid belongs to me, little Peter was never deceived. She is quite as much to blame for his advent into the world as I am and I think she would be the first to acknowledge that fact.

Have you heard from her lately? She is advertised at one of the moving picture houses next week in "Pumping His Heart." The town is quite "het up" over it. Everybody remembers her and not a few of the men are digging me in the ribs as they ask me if I am going to give a theater party.

Of course I know that there was always more or less talk about Paula and myself, but you are the only person in all the world outside of us who really knows the facts. I want to see that picture, Syd, and yet I'm afraid to go alone for fear someone will see me thinking in, or out, and I am afraid to stay away.

As I said before, I'm in a devil of a fix.

TOMORROW: Leslie gets a blackmail letter from an anonymous writer.

THE MYSTERY: The three fiddlers brought by King Cole, suddenly stopped their bows, their fiddles fell from their chins, and their heads dropped over like ten-pins.

King Cole himself dancing with the Queen of Hearts, was making a gorgeous bow when the sleepy sand struck him in the eye, and he sank in a heap at her feet—sound asleep.

The Queen herself, ready for a curtsy, gave one yawn and fell back into a rocking chair—dead to the world.

And every one of the Diddy Gander Land people from the Crooked Man to the Sprats, fell asleep at Jack and Jill's party. The Old Shoe Woman and her children among them.

Jack and Jill and Miesez John, too, fell asleep still looking for the missing pies that the Twins had gone to hunt. Miesez John in the pantry, Jill in the kitchen and Jack in the cellar. For the noise that Jack built was a very complete one indeed.

Well, after the Old Shoe Woman's house had been swept clean, Daddy Gander and the Sandman and the Twins got their wits together.

"I still haven't found my lost people!" said the Sandman.

"And we still haven't found the lost pies," said Daddy Gander. "And if we don't find them Jack's party will be spoiled. How can they end a party without refreshments? There is no other way to end a party. And the party will go on and on all night. Something must be done."

"Let's go back," suggested Nick. "That's a good idea," nodded the Sandman. "Maybe I can persuade the Old Shoe Woman's children to come home to bed anyway."

And so they went.

And you know what they saw when they got there. Every single soul as sound asleep as mummies.

But they saw something more, for when they rushed back to the kitchen there was every pie and every cake and the ice cream freezer and everything right in the cupboard where Miesez John had put them. Not a thing had been touched.

"Well, well, well!" What a topsyturvy place this is!" cried poor Daddy Gander. "A little while ago we had a lot of people and no pies. Now we have a lot of pies and no people. I hope you are satisfied, Mister Sandman."

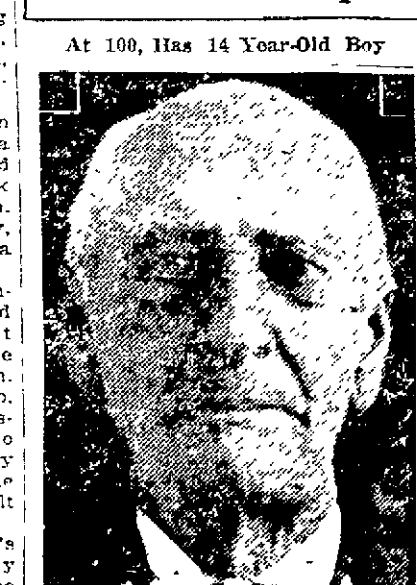

There was a mystery! And they were soon to find it out.

APPLETON PUTS CLAMP ON CAGING CHAMPIONSHIP

Orange Gets Revenge On Fond du Lac Quint For Only Loss Of Year

Red and White Drop Game, 18 to 12 Before Crowd of 1,500 Fans; Locals Show Airtight Defense.

Fond du Lac	5	4	.555

FRIDAY'S RESULTS
APPLETON 18, FOND DU LAC 12
Manitowoc 35, Sheboygan 10.
West Green Bay 17, East Green 14.

Appleton High school Friday night evened its score with Fond du Lac by taking the Reds to an 18 to 12 cleaning in a close game on Armory G court here, and thereby clinched the championship of the High School conference of the valley. The Orange outplayed Fond du Lac in the first two quarters and at the end of the half was in the lead, 18 to 6. In the third period the Reds tightened their defense and permitted but one basket and a free throw, both scored by Koll while Captain Bill Dew chalked up one point on Courtney's foul. The final period cut Appleton's lead down to 4 points near the end of the game but Koll caged another long shot with less than a minute to go and made it 18 to 12.

WAGNER STARTS SCORING
Wagner started scoring when he broke through the Orange defense immediately after the tip up and the invaders start looked threatening for the Appleton team. Schuurle missed a freethrow on Dew's foul chance on a long shot and caused it without touching the hoop. After Dew had put his team in the lead again with another basket Koll got under the ring and dropped the ball through, making it 4 to 4. For more than five minutes the two teams fought without being able to score but with three minutes to go, Hornbeck made a fieldgoal Adams' foul gave Schuurle a chance for two points but the Appleton man missed both and when quarter ended the score stood 6 to 4, with the Orange on the long end.

In the second period Schuurle Koll and Hornbeck broke through for basket once, and in addition Schuurle made a freethrow. In the third quarter Appleton scored 14 while Adams had kept making 6 for the Reds. The Appleton defense was airtight, and the Fond du Lac players never got within comfortable shooting distance of the hoop. They tried a number of long shots without success and the Orange had little difficulty in evading the Reds for a number of minutes. However, in their usual form, not missing frequently.

ORANGE OUTPLAYED
Fond du Lac tightened up in the third period, and although Appleton scored three points to one for Fond du Lac, the invaders outplayed their rivals all through the quarter. Koll and Courtney were responsible for Dew caging the ball on a freethrow after Courtney had fouled him. Appleton recovered in the final period but two long shots by Sonn and Dew found their mark, and a freethrow by Dew brought the Fond du Lac score to 12. Koll shot one a minute to go. Koll shot one through from the middle of the floor, and at the sound of the final gun, the Orange led, 18 to 12.

The armory was crowded with about 1500 fans one of the best crowds of the year.

The lineup: Fond du Lac—Adams, R.P., Sonn, L.P., Dew, C., Wagner, R.G., Johnson, L.G.

APPLETON—Hornbeck, R.P., Koll, J.P., Schuurle, C., Courtney, R.G., Hillman, L.G.

Substitution—Moser for Adams. Referee—Krug, Oshkosh. Timekeeper—Guy Barlow, Appleton.

MANITOWOC 35, SHEBOYGAN 10
Manitowoc staged a brilliant recovery at Sheboygan when it humbled the Shipbuilders, 35 to 10. In their last contest, Sheboygan won by a narrow margin, but since that time Manitowoc recovered its early season pep, and the Shipbuilders were swamped from start to finish.

WEST GREEN BAY 17, EAST 14
West Green Bay also upset the dope bucket when it defeated East high, 17 to 14, in an overtime game. At the end of the final quarter, the score was tied, 14 to 14. With two or three minutes left to play, West scored a long basket and a freethrow, and capped the contest. East Green Bay was in the lead, 7 to 5, at the end of the first half, but West came back with brilliant passing attack in the second which puzzled its opponents and brought the teams neck and neck at the finish.

STRANGLER THROWS ASHLAND MAT STAR

Chicago—Ed Strangler Lewis, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, threw Elmer Saunders of Ashland once in a scheduled three-fall match here Friday night. During the remainder of the time neither wrestler scored a fall.

Burgess, N. D.—"Dago" Joe Gans, St. Paul welterweight, won a shade newspaper decision over Battling Nautilus, Fargo, in ten rounds.

Caging Sisters

TOP TO BOTTOM, FREDA, AUGUSTA, EMMA, AND MINNIE LOHN.

Seldom is it that athletic genius burns with uniform brilliancy in the same family. Yet the four Lohn sisters of Youngstown, Freda, Augusta, Emma and Minnie, are basketball players of exceptional merit. The girls are members of a local team which hasn't lost a game in two years. Recently they swamped the noted Shamrocks of London, Ont., by a 42-21 score.

Checker Girls Will Enter In National Meet

Checker Girls Friday night easily walked away from the Schlefer hardware team in three straight games rolled on the Arcade alleys, and piled up the highest aggregate ever rolled by a team of girls in Appleton. They smashed 817 pins in the first game, 761 in the second and 920 in the third for a total of 2498. Had they smashed so many marbles at the Janesville tourney they might have won all honors.

The Checker Girls are planning to enter the national ladies tournament at Indianapolis next April, and if they can keep up their present stride they should improve considerably on their state tourney record.

Friday's scores:

Checker	Won	Lost
Dunn	161 357 219 537
Roudebush	191 169 165 525
Kolitch	358 316 241 433

BABE RUTH FIGHTS INFLUENZA ATTACK

Hot Springs, Ark.—Babe Ruth, king of baseball, Saturday settled down to fight off his "flu," an attack of influenza. Although described as a "pretty sick man," Ruth's condition was not regarded as dangerous. His physician, Dr. W. T. Woodson, said there had been no complications so far, and the patient should recover in a few days.

Ruth was stricken Friday morning as he started on his hike over the mountain trails. He said he had had a slight chill Thursday night but felt all right Friday morning. He donned a uniform to return to the hotel. Dr. Woodson was summoned and ordered him to bed.

CHICAGO FACES HARD BATTLE TO RETAIN HER LEAD

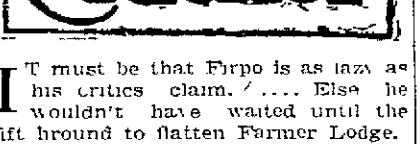

Wolverines Look for Victory Over Maroons in Crucial Contest

Chicago—Chicago Saturday night must defend her position of leadership in the Western conference basketball title race when she meets the strong Michigan team at Ann Arbor; a victory in this contest will put the Maroons in almost certain line for a tie for the championship, or better.

Ohio, now tied with Purdue for second place, will have a chance to step ahead of the Bollermakers by defeating Minnesota at Minneapolis. Wisconsin, now resting uneasily in fourth position, counts on a certain victory over Northwestern, but on Monday expects trouble when Ohio invades the home floor at Madison. The Iowa Illinois contest Friday night has no bearing on the championship.

While Michigan is now far down in the conference list she still has a strong team and is planning a comeback before the home supporters that will bounce the Maroons out of first place.

Chicago in her last games has been consistently strong and should win from the Wolverines.

Girls at Ohio State university are to get varsity letters in the future but the careful young suitor will continue to use the telephone.

A Detroit reporter writes that "it took Heilmann just nine minutes to put his name on a 'tiger contract'." And all along we had the idea he was one of the smart ball players.

There are two things we like about spring football practice. 1—We don't have to listen to the coach's alibi. 2—We don't have to listen to the coach's alibi.

What one of the two parties seems to need most of all is the leader of whom it may be said, "Thank God for Him, He kept 'us Out of Oil."

Tommy Connolly has been calling him balls for 25 years. "And I can remember two he called right," pipes up One Punch O'Goofy.

The papers state Jack Johnson hasn't lost all his old time stuff. . . . By that they mean he still has his two gold teeth.

Collegians Star In Majors

TOP, LEFT TO RIGHT, DONAHUE, DUGAN, COLLINS, SISLER, CENTER, FRISCH.

BY BULLY EVANS
Are the colleges a good field for the major league ball clubs?

Fifteen years ago a majority of the big league managers would have ridiculed the idea.

In those days Connie Mack was the only leader who had faith in the collegian as a baseball prospect.

It was Mack who paved the way for the "mah-hah" athletes when he developed Eddie Plank, Jack Coombs, Eddie Collins and Jack Barry into big league stars.

All of them came direct from the college field and made good in the big show. They had no other baseball experience. Of course it required a few years to acquire a major league polish and become stars.

Mack's ability to visualize as to the possibilities of the collegian for a time gave him the pick of the school athletes. That time is past. Major league scouts now explore the college field as thoroughly as they do the minors.

It is a rather interesting fact that five of the games' greatest players came direct from the college field and made good.

In the matter of playing second base it would be a difficult matter to pick two more brilliant players than Eddie Collins and Frankie Frisch. Both are the educated top athlete.

Collins was dug up by Connie Mack back in 1907. Eddie was then a star at Columbia University in both football and baseball. Under the tutelage of Mack he has developed into one of the greatest infielders of all times.

Frankie Frisch is a graduate of Fordham. He stepped right into the New York Giants' lineup and made good on his first appearance. He first won fame at third base.

When McGraw secured Heine Groh he shifted Frisch to second. At the more difficult position the talented young man showed even greater ability.

Frisch is one of the most remarkable ball players I have ever seen. He does everything well. He is a worthy successor to the great Collins in the art of playing second base.

PITCHER EHMKE HAS NO KICK ON NO-HIT CONTESTS

Red Sox Hurler Has Not Permitted Unusual Feat to Go to His Head

Howard Ehmke, star pitcher of the Boston Red Sox, who almost pitched two no-hit games on successive appearances last season, hasn't let the performance go to his head.

Ehmke first broke into the hall of fame against the Athletics in his next appearance, against New York. Witt, the first man up, grounded to Shanks at third. With an easy out in front of him, Shanks fumbled the ball and just failed to get Witt at first. The play was scored a hit.

During the rest of the game New York made nothing that resembled a hit. The crowd gave Ehmke a great ovation at the finish, believing he had pitched a second no-hit game.

"I haven't any kick coming," remarked Ehmke recently, when the near no-hit game was referred to as a bit of hard luck. "In the first no-hit game the Philadelphia scorers were kind to me. A rather hard hit ball was scored as an error. That was a break in my favor. In the New York game the play should have been scored as an error, I thought, but the rather severe scoring made it a hit."

"I got an even break on two questionable plays so that I have no kick coming. Nevertheless, I would have liked to have turned in two no-hit games in a row."

Man has begun to use high explosives in his war against insects. Dynamite, which we usually think of in connection with the destruction of big things, is now being employed against little mosquitoes. It is used to blast these dangerous disease carrying pests out of existence by digging ditches which drain the mosquito grounds.

Umpire Bill Finneran, after a second trial in the National League, is again to go back to the minors. A leg injury seriously handicapped Finneran in his work last season.

LIETHEN AND JABAS
BEAT DREXLER-SELIG
Liethen and Jabas Thursday night took the first block of their 300 point pocket billiard match from Drexler and Selig in a tight game played in the Carr and Hanson parlors.

The contest was featured by the safeties of Liethen and Jabas which puzzled their rivals. Jabas ran 14 balls in one inning for the high run of the evening, and played the best game.

The next block of the match will be played off next week.

Blue Defeats Ripon While Beloit Clamps Hold On Championship

Lawrence Looks Forward to Victory Over Little Five Leaders Here After Winning, 31 to 25.

Lawrence Friday night humbled Ripon, 31 to 25, in a loose basketball contest at Ripon, while Beloit was tightening its hold on the conference championship by taking Carroll to a 14 to 11 drubbing at Waukesha.

In the Lawrence-Ripon contest the invaders took a 6 point lead early in the game and were never headed thereafter. The Lawrentians ended the first half in the lead 14 to 9, and for the rest of the battle had things very much all their own way. Butz man of Ripon was the individual star of the game, with seven field goals to his credit.

The Lawrence men did played a fast passing attack, and their defense was too much for the Ripon. They man on the mound played a good game.

Saturday afternoon Beloit is playing the Blues at Armory G in the final conference game on the Lawrence schedule. Lawrence was looking forward to a victory over the leaders and the defeat of Ripon promised well for the Blues.

January 23rd, 1924.

To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council, Appleton, Wisconsin.

Gentlemen:

Pursuant to engagement we have audited the books of account of your City Treasurer and City Clerk for the year 1923.

The books of the High School, Vocational School and Water Department were not examined but the accounts of the City Treasurer as treasurer of these institutions were thoroughly audited. In addition certificates were received from the heads of these institutions relative to the correctness of their balances as shown herein.

We examined the books of the Public Library by direction of the Library Board and are making separate report on same.

We hereby certify that during 1923 all disbursements were made upon proper orders, supported by proper authority, and that all receipts have been accounted for and correctly recorded.

Exhibits and schedules detailing the balances in the several funds and the assets in the custody of the Clerk and Treasurer are presented herewith. Cash on hand and securities owned were verified by examination. The City's equity in the Waterworks and the bonded indebtedness in the Waterworks were verified by the books of that department.

Matured bonds and coupons were verified to be on hand and cancelled. The entire unused series of coupons (No. 1) on the recently issued Junior High School bonds were found on hand and burned.

The records of both the City Clerk and City Treasurer were, as usual, well maintained and correct according to form.

Respectfully submitted,

Reilly, Penner & Benton,

Certified Public Accountants.

CITY OF APPLETON
ANNUAL REPORT OF THE CITY ENGINEER AND STREET COMMISSIONER
YEAR ENDING DECEMBER, 31, 1923

To His Honor the Mayor, and Members of the Common Council.

Gentlemen:

I take pleasure in submitting the regular annual report of this office, and I trust that it will meet with the approval of all interested and concerned. A complete and thorough perusal of the activities of the year would involve great quantities of uninteresting and unimportant details, so I assume that the outstanding features of the year will suffice.

STREETS:

All repairs, street cleaning, catch basins, miscellaneous manholes and the like are done by our own men. This entails considerable expense but our snow removal service in the winter, and the absolute absence of dirt in the summer, are the cause of well-merited admiration and favorable comment from all classes of people who come to our city. During 1923, our Street Dept. laid 35,500 square yards of under pavement. The property owners were assessed 33 1/3 cents per front foot for this improvement, as against $4.75 which would be the most favorable price for some hard surface pavement. We had but one paving contract and that was in Alley Block 26. The work was let to Louis Waltman at $2.24 per yard which is a good price for concrete. Most of the cost was assessed to the abutting property owners.

SEWERS:

During 1923 there were laid 7999.6 lin. ft. of sewer in Appleton at a total cost of $11,634.02. Of this amount 66.4% was paid by the abutting property owners, and the City at large bore the brunt of the remaining portion, or 33.6 per cent. The general data is as follows:

10 inch pipe—Total length of 4071.6 lin. ft. at a cost of $5164.67. The average bid of the contractors for pipe only was $1.07 per ft. The gross cost per ft. including manholes, etc. was $1.27 of which the average charge to the property owners on each side was $0.63.

12 inch pipe—Total length laid 3928.0 lin. ft. at a cost of $6468.35. Average bid for pipe only was $1.38 per lin. ft. The average gross cost per lin. ft. including manholes, etc. was $1.64, which makes an average property charge of $0.82 per ft.

PARKS:

Last year the upkeep and care of the parks entailed the expenditure of $8080.71. Most of our park area is still in the undeveloped stage but none need feel anything but proud of our City Park and the tourists camp at All-Park. Park benches were repaired and painted. The investigation provided for the year all the park benches were repaired and painted and additional ones were furnished to Erb Park. An excellent baseball diamond was laid out and leveled in the last mentioned park, and I feel that some space should be made in Allota Park for athletic purposes, and that a diamond should be laid out in Pierce's Park.

BRIDGES:

New floors were placed on the East Lawrence-St. Bridge and that at the Knitting Mills at Lake-St. A very thorough investigation was made of all the City's bridges, with the exception of Lakes-St. The investigation proved that our structures are in very good condition, but that a few repairs will be necessary. It is absolutely essential that every steel bridge should be painted in 1924.

EQUIPMENT:

All the City equipment was repaired and painted. This is necessarily a very economical move, and will prolong the life of the instruments and give them an appearance that is in keeping with standards of the City.

MISCELLANEOUS:

A very splendid arterial sign was chosen and erected. The Water Street crossing wall was rebuilt. 81 sidewalk permits were issued. 759 building permits were granted. 28 house moving permits were allowed. The Plumbing Inspector gave out 279 permits. 82 Street permits and 580 sewer permits were issued.

The Long Telephone Co. trench on College was replaced and the cost charged back to the Company.

The Street Foreman were called out after 6:00 P. M. to place red lights at dangerous places, and for other matters a combined number of 141 times.

A great number of curb boxes were broken by careless drivers and required replacing. We are now replacing these cast iron boxes with a reinforced concrete curb, and this should make them fool-proof, besides save the City a great deal of money.

A great deal of private walk shoveling was done in the winter, and much weeds were cut

HOME PLAYERS SHOW LACK OF INTEREST

Recently George "Storony" Kromer of Kaukauna called a meeting of sandlot moguls to reorganize his home talent loop, and the meager attendance indicated another year of mediocre ball unless the clubs buck up and get together.

"Storony" says the reason for the failure of the home player is lack of ambition and the willingness to let the fans act as managers and pull the players into the game.

Green Bay, Kaukauna, New London and Appleton are back in the Home Players league, but despite the fact that Appleton will be represented by two clubs, with Kaukauna as another two-club possibility, these teams are not enough. Kromer is out to get Hortonville, Seymour and De Pere into the wheel, and is out preaching home talent to their fans.

Are You Going To Buy A Car This Spring?

TAKE HEED—LEARN FROM THE PAST YEAR'S LESSONS

Place Your Order Now

If you are considering a new car this spring, the time for action has arrived. It is just as easy for you to make your selection now as in the spring when you are in a hurry. Often one's judgment is influenced by the possibility of early delivery of some make of automobile that is not their choice, and in order to get this delivery they purchase a car which they would not consider under normal conditions.

All of the latest models for 1924 have been on display. The standards for this year's automobile are already set. You may be sure that if you buy a car now, you will be getting the same car that you would buy in August with just a little more attention before it goes to you.

Prices Advance

During the past 30 days many cars have advanced in price, and the general opinion is that within the next 30 days all the popular makes will announce a price increase.

If you wish to buy your car now, you can get an immediate demonstration under conditions that really put the car to a test.

Then too by ordering a car now, you can have it delivered the first day of spring, when motoring is really at its best, after spending the winter mostly in your home you will enjoy the country roads much more. Just take for instance, you can now buy a car and get immediate delivery, in thirty days you may have to wait two months for delivery.

For several years past there has always been thousands of unfilled orders. Every spring, orders for cars come so fast, that every manufacturer of a popular make automobile is swamped with orders to such an extent that it is impossible for him to fill these.

WHAT THE LOCAL DEALERS SAY ABOUT THE SITUATION—

A Timely Suggestion Buy Early This Year

Last year so many orders for Dodge Brothers cars were placed during the spring and summer that in many cases customers were forced to wait a long time for delivery.

All indications point to an even greater demand for Dodge Brothers cars this year than last. In order that we may relieve the situation and serve the greatest number of purchasers we suggest that, if you are considering the purchase of a Dodge Brothers car, you place your order early.

"A still greater shortage is expected this year, unless orders are placed early for spring deliveries." We have no assurance of deliveries after the first of May, therefore an immediate order is your only safeguard.

Proof of Oakland Popularity

Mr. C. J. Napier, General Sales Manager of the Oakland Motor Car Co. states: "Oakland sales during the last quarter of 1923 were three times as large as the sales during the same quarter of the previous year. So well sustained has been the demand for Oakland cars since the announcement of the new line early in September, that the factory has not yet been able to accumulate any surplus of cars for spring delivery."
